

56th BSA Owners' Club International Rally Moreton–in-Marsh, Great Britain 10th – 17th August 2019

The GB BSA Owners' Club warmly invites you to join us for the 56th International Rally. The venue is the Fire Service College, Moreton in Marsh in the picturesque north Cotswolds.

The Fire Service College site was originally the home station of 21 Operational Training Unit, Bomber Command responsible for the training of aircrew to fly Wellington bombers. The airbase remained operational until the late 1950s. The government then used the base to teach firefighting to military personnel undergoing their National Service. In 1959 the Home Office took over the airfield renaming it the Home Office Fire Training Centre.

There are many areas of the Cotswolds to explore from the Rally site, covering several counties including some of the sites used by the BSA Factory for their Publicity photographs. In fact Armoury Road is only 45 miles away. The Rally site will accommodate Tents, Caravans, Campervans, Motorhomes (all facilities will be available) and for people wanting alternative Accommodation there are several hundred hotel type en-suite rooms with tea & coffee making facilities on site. There will be free use of the sports complex and free WI-FI.
